Poelrooms Put Out of Business and Big Betting at the Tracks Checked-Increased Vigilance as to the Cleanliness of the Sport-The Card for To-day.

of its promises to the Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Slicer, representing the State Conference on seriously crippled that many of the largest concerns have suspended business, while the small fry have notified patrons that bets will be taken on newspaper odds, or, in other words, in accordance with the handbook system, which is not entirely satisfactory to the average player. The Jockey Club has also made a determined effort to curtail the operations of the spectacular plungers. All of these operators have been "requested" to keep their wagers down and nearly all are complying, imbued with the desire to protect the turf as much as possible. The influence of the Jockey Club in this direction is shown in the fact that John A. Drake, for instance, is betting $100 to a race nowadays, when a year ago it was not an uncommon thing for him to wager $30,000 on a single race in which one of his own horses was a starter. John W. Gates is also betting in a comparatively small sohn, who lost all of $250,000 last year. Among the professional bookmakers and speculators the same policy is in evidence. Men who were in the habit of betting $2,500 on a horse a year ago appear to be satisfied with a wager one-fifth as large. At Jamaica on Saturday, while the big operators bet heavily on Roseben, the layers did a land office business in the shape of small wagers by the public at large. So it may be realized that the Jockey Club has really curtailed betting at the track, at the

Furthermore, the Jockey Club had instituted a more stringent polloy as to the cleanliness of the sport itself. The jockeys are practically imprisonad during the afternoons so that nobody except their employers can converse with them. The jockeys valets have been compelled to wear uniforms and numbers, while the jockeys' manveillance. While the Jockey Club never believes in the washing of dirty linen and is always on the alert in the way of suppressing scandal, it may be said that the racing of-ficials this year will exercise increased vigilance in attempting to run to earth persons inclined to indulge in fraudulent practices. The turf powers have the Pinkerton detec-tives to rely upon and in that way they are able to keep in touch with racing affairs both at the track and away from it. Objectionable persons will be warned away quietly and without ceremony. This was made plain when Bismark, who was mixed up in the Franklin Syndicate and was later ruled off the French tracks, was notified last week that he could not make book at damaica: Sismark's case well illustrated the independence of the racetrack managers. This undesirable bookmaker is a member of the Mets, under whose auspices and alleged pro-tection he expected to lay prices in the Jamaica ring. If the Metropolitan Jockey Club had been accepting $57 a day from each member of the Mets for special privileges, it would have been impossible to restrain Bismark, for he would have been backed up to the limit. by his organization. But with all avenue from the bookmakers out off, and no recognition of the Mets in any way being accorded. Bismark had to get out.

The death of the Cassidy-Lansing bill at Albany does not mean that the Jockey Club's present policy will become lax. On the con-trary the Jockey Club intends to strengthen its defences in many ways in anticipation of further legislative attacks upon the turf in this State. As a result of this vigorous policy, public will be more amply protected than ever before. So far racing at the local tracks has been practically free from any unpleasant features. Form has been in pretty fair running order and up to Saturday it is a fact that the public had enjoyed much the better of the daily tussle with the layers. The presence of thousands at the track each day should be taken to mean that there is firm was still the topic among turfmen yesterday Having had time to digest the details of the race, many expert judges declared that it was the same old story—trying to make a dis-tance horse out of a sprinter—something that has seldom been successful in the annals of the turf. Calmly viewing the situation yesterday, a leading trainer said:

"Just why those people came to the track
Saturday and blindly wagered their all on the big horse is a mystery to me. Why. Roseben never ran a mile and a sixteenth before Cross in the Carter, and he beat nothing in the Sterling takes, because both Ram's Horn and Phil Finch were ailing then with the trouble that has thrown both out of training. Roseben, just as Mr. Drake said in THE SUN last week, is the greatest weight carrying sprinter in the world. But that lets him out. He cannot go a route with high class handicap horses, and that will be shown conclusively when he goes in the Metropolitan at a mile Any good horse that can go out and race with him will kill him off. Roseben is a quitter when he goes up against a real racehorse at lost confidence in the big horse. They say that he is not nearly so good as he was at Belmont Park last fall when he picked up 147 pounds and smashed the world's record for six furlongs in a breezing gallop. If he in the Excelsior, his managers say, he would have run the others into the ground. As it was, the running of the first half in 0:47 2-5, with Lyne riding a waiting race in front, ap-pears to be the reason for the defeat, coupled with the additional fact that Roseben did not like the track, with its quick turns and short stretches, which are in striking contrast to the racecourses at Aqueduct and Belmont uncovered to date. The best youngsters, of course, will not be seen until the larger tracks begin operations. But the early crop, it seems, is far below the average. Newton Bennington's De Mund, by Goldfinch—Gra-ciosity, is conceded to be the best two-yearold disclosed so far, while Senator McCarren's Golden Shore, by Golden Garter-Elfina, is another good one. The Keene stable has of them has scored brackets. Perry Bel-mont's Donna Elvira August Belmont's Okenite and Curriculum, the Oneck Stable's Clare Russell and J. H. M. Cormick's Blue Dale are about the best of the others.

The most attractive stake feature to be run at Jamaica this week is the Kings County Handicap, one mile and a sixteenth, next Saturday. Merry Lark, Ormonde's flight and Eugenia Burch, who got the money in the Excelsior, are eligible, together with Roseben, Lord of the Vale, Bad News, Jacquin, Cairngorm, Inquisitor, Race King, Grenade and others. Ram's Horn will not start as he will have a rest until midsummer.

The feature of the Jamaica card for to-day is the Dunton Stakes for three-year-olds, six furlongs, in which Clark Grifflith must give weight to Belmere, Israfel, First Fremium, Watergrass and James R. Keene's Commando colt. Oyama A handicap at a mile and a sixteenth is another magnet, with an evenly matched field, including Chimney Sweep, Pretension, Grenade and Sailor Boy all good just at present. It looks as if De Mund win the first event for two-year-olds, five Silver to beat. In the second event at a suelo II. and Maxnar may fight it out, while in the fifth event for maiden three-year-old colts, five and a half furlongs, High Brush, Lester L. Hayman and Melbourne Nominee may do something. Maiden two-year-olds will run in the last race at five furlongs, > BRUSHING ON THE SPEEDWAY. May Hathaway Wins a Close Tilt From Susle G .- Other Contests.

> Rival owners who last year finished only inches apart in the final heat for the Speedway pacing cup gave the crowd at the Speedyay yesterday morning a thrilling brush. The road was in splendid condition and the crowd the largest of the season.

> After losing last year by the smallest pos-sible margin, Charles S. Rice sold Star Pugh, 2.00%, and bought the bay mare May Hathaway, who started last season without a record and won an almost unbroken chain of victories, closing the campaign with a record of 2:11%. J. H. Campbell has wintered the cup winner Susie G., 2:14%, so carefully that she seems faster than ever before. For these reasons the first meeting beween the cup defender and the new rival was looked forward to eagerly. It came yesterday

> The owner of the old ringer Tar Tarter, 1336, swung in front of the two rivals, but them he was an uncared for factor. Below the quarter mile post May Hathaway made mistep and for an instant the new owner thought she would tip over. Then she squared away on her four cornered pace and moved up again on even terms with the fleet daughter of Oro Wilkes, 2:11. As between the two real rivals at the finish it was a close decision. The majority of those in a position to know said May Hathaway had her nose in front.

> To some it looked like a dead heat.

> The sport opened with a brush between the pacer Major Wilson, 2:07%, driven by Jeremiah Murphy, and the trotter Nelly Wilkes, handled by Philip Heipenhausen. The pacer won. Each starter was prominent later. Major Wilson won a good brush from Andrew Crawford's Effic Shannon, 2:24%, with Henry Phillips's trotter James Shevlin, 2:13¼, third. Then the Major won from Dr. Gill's Sue Dix, 2:14¼, in racehorse fashion. As a close to the list of winnings, Major Wilson won from H. B. Gates's bay pacer Frank Bash-

The stable companions, Sue Dix, 2:14%, and Coast Marie, driven by Dr. Gill and the trainer, Isaac Fleming, were prominent. In a tilt against each other Sue Dix won. Then Coast Marie won. Later Coast Marie was sent two brushes against George M. Archer's pacer Lady Direct, 2:15%, with an even break. As a close to the good work of the morning Lady Direct won from the chestnut pacer Moronial, 2:10.

Walter Rilpatrick brought out a new candidate in the brown gelding Jabbowak and he defeated Terence Kennedy's trotter Teddy K. Teddy K. was steady in the next brush and beat Mr. Kilpatrick's California trotter. When Teddy K. met the brown trotter Kitty Selden, driven by Dr. L. J. Kiernan, be had to accept second place.

Kitty Selden beat the trotter James Shevlin in a hurrah finish. Kitty Selden also won a brush from Kingmond. Coast Marie was sent to join and finished in front. George Buckman and his pacer. George Buckman and his pacer Ned Sheldon, 2:194, proved a hard pair to beat. In his first start Ned Sheldon took Sue Dix into camp handily. Mr. Buckman and his favorite caught a tough proposition in the next brush, the competitor being the pacer Effle Shannon, 2:244, driven by Andrew Crawford. Effle Shannon won in one of the best finishes of the morning. Later Ned Sheldon won a keen brush from the trotter Estella, driven by Rue Clark. Estrella bids fair to become one of the stars of the Huber stable. With Clark, the trainer, up, she beat a crack field that included Kitty Wilkes, 2:154, driven by William Scott, Gracie Pandit, 2:254, with the owner, George Huber, up, and the bay trotter Ildrim, 2:244, driven by W. J. Clark. A. Thornton drove George Huber's pacer Harry Van, 2:21, to several good victories.

Alice Drake, 2:144, drew her owner, Andrew Cone, to the front in several good finishes. In her first start. Alice Drake beat S. T. De Lee's chestnut crack. Leo T., 2:104, Moronial, 2:10, was sent to join in the next brush, and half way down H. B. Gates sent Frank Bashford out in front, where he remained to the finish. Alice Drake won from the original starters, with Moronial in second place. Then Moronial beat Alice Drake in a Grand Circuit finish.

Charles Weiland, driving the trotter Dan T. 2:07%, Lod a shortsharp tilt with Lord March. When the clip became faster than Mr. Weiland cared to drive so early in the season he took Dan T. in hand. Later Dan T. warmed to the work so well that he finished in front of Henry Phillips's James Shevlin.

Isaac A. Hopper made his first appearanc this season on the drive. He drove Lucre, Jr., a slashing gaited pacer.

ROOSEVELT CUP RACE.

Commodore Hebbinghaus Visits the Eastern Club and Sees the Course.

BOSTON, April 29.-After arranging with the Eastern Yacht Club all the details for the international small yacht match between boats of Germany and America to be sailed n September, Commander Hans G. Hebbinghaus of the Imperial German Army, representing the Kaiser, to-day inspected the course over which the German-American races will he sailed off Marblehead and also several of the boats building for the elimination trials. Commander Hebbinghaus was the guest for the day of the regatta committee of the Eastern Yacht Club, who gave him every facility to see the craft that have been started thus far for the defence of the Roosevelt cup. thus far for the defence of the Roosevelt cup.

He was met at a Boston dock by the committee and taken on a tug to Marblehead and Manchester, where he was shown over three shops where boats for the international match are building. After returning to Boston Commander Hebbinghaus expressed himself as delighted with the trip, which he said was something new in the management of international contests, in which secreey on both sides had hitherto prevailed in the preliminary stages. He believed, he said, that the American designers had some to the limit allowed by the German Sonder lasse rule, under which the boats for the match are designed.

"The boats I have seen," he said, "are big for the rule. The designers have taken all they can get." for the rule. The designers have taken all they can get."
Fourteen boats have been ordered for the trials with a possibility of two others being ordered in a few days. Three New York designers, three in Boston and N. G. Herreshoff are represented by the boats thus far ordered, with one amateur designer from Boston in the list. Commander Hebbinghaus says nine boats are being built in Germany for the trials to be held in July at Kiel, one of which is for the Crown Prince. Three of these will be sent to this country to contest in the match whichwill be held in September.

James E. Sullivan Again I. C. A A. A. A.

Referee. A meeting of the Intercollegiate Athletic A meeting of the Intercollegiste Athletic Association (was held last Saturday in Philadelphia. The officials for the intercollegiste championships next month in Cambridge were chosen. They are much the same as usual, the few changes being so as to include Bostonians. James E. Sullivan was named referee. As far as could be learned the matter of games between the Eastern and Western colleges was not even mentioned.

VAN CORTLANDT AND PELHAM GOLFERS MUST HAVE THEM.

Western Association Avoids Clash With the National Championship by Choosing September Dates-Travis to Play at Atlantic City-M. G. A. Fixtures.

Players who use the public links at Van Cortlandt and Pelham Bay Parks must take out new permits, according to an order by Park Commissioner Walgrave of The Bronx. Investigation has revealed that only a minor proportion of them have permits, while the quota to possess the credentials are mostly ising last year's tickets. The one remedy against disorder on the links is to take away the permits of persistent offenders against the etiquette of the game, and, to systematize the play and deal intelligently with the needs of the golfers, the Park Commissioner's ruling will be generally indorsed. The permits may be had by personal application at Claremont Park, or if an addressed and stamped envelope is enclosed, permits may be had by mail from the Park Commissioner's office in The Bronx. When requested, the permit will be made good for both Van Cortlandt and Pelham Bay Parks. There is complaint among the players over the bad condition of the greens at Van Cortlandt and they are afraid that unless the work is taken in hand the links will soon be utterly ruined. An early application for the permits may help to arouse the interest of the officials in the needs of the golfers.

A happy solution of the conflict between the championship of the Western Golf Assoclation and the national championship has been arrived at by a postponement of the Western tournament, which is to be at the Glen Echo Country Club, St. Louis, to September 8 to 8. The Olympic trophy, open to teams of four from any golf association in the wrold, will be on Monday, September 8, and the Western amateur championship on the five following days. This is the third change in the Western dates, but it is the final one and should be a satisfactory solution of the mixup. The June dates announced first met with disfavor in the West as too early for the players to be in good trim and because the college boys would be away. The second dates for the St. Louis fixture, July 2 to 7, left but two free days before the national championship at the Englewood Golf Club, July 10 to 14.

A. R. Gates, secretary of the Western Golf Association, in announcing the change to September adds: "The Western Golf Association has uniformly sought to uphold the dignity of the national title by holding its events prior to the national, in order to ob-viate the possibility of the national titleholders being defeated in the Western, and thus, in a measure, detracting from national honors. In seeking to follow the precedent heretofore established the Western Golf Association was limited in its choice of dates owing to the early selections made by the United States Golf Association. Serious objection was made by Western golfers to any dates prior to the 1st of July, owing to the fact that but little practice is had in the Western district during the early season and the absence in college of many of the younger contingent. It is confidently believed that the dates now selected will meet with the approval of a large majority of Western golfers. last year of teams, including one from Canon the day before the national championship at Wheaton. The Canadians were permitted to play in the amateur championship by a special ruling of the United States Golf Association, but the Olympic entrants may not play for the Western Golf Association limits the championship to its members. All such entrants, however, will be eligible to the many minor flight cups and for the handicap, which is a guarantee of a week of interesting golf for them besides the team match. The open tournaments of the Chicago district occur in August, and to teams from Canada and the East which may undertake a tour on the plan of the Oxford and Cambridge society's trips a very pleasant journey might be arranged, to include the Chicago tournaments before going to St. Louis for the Olympic contest. on the day before the national champion-

Easter week brought a throng to the British links, the usual thing with fine weather. The English and Irish bar match for the year took place at Dollymount, the former team winning blace at Dolymout, the former team within by 7½ to 4½ points. Two golfers who have visited our links, H. W. Beveridge and T. Mansfield Hunter, were on the English team Beveridge won, but Hunter lost in the singles to W. Campbell. The two are also playing with the Oxford and Cambridge society's team, which began an Irish tour, in Easter week at Dollymount, beating the Royal Dublin Club, 15 to 6 points. A. G. Barry was 4 down at the turn with H. A. Boyd, but came home very brilliantly and won by 2 up. In the Easter competition at North Berwick A. M. Ross won the Brodie medal with 86 and Major Scott the Aitchison medal, 102, 18—84. At St. George's A. D. Blyth won the Cinque Ports medal with 81, in a high wind, and on the Monday following C. K. Hutchinson, second for the Cinque Ports with 82, won the spring scratch medal with 76.

Walter J. Travis is to head a long list of Metropolitan Golf Association players who will open their tournament rounds for the season at the Atlantic City Country Club on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, George T. Brokaw may also be a starter, although he had not decided on Saturday whether he could get to Atlantic City or not. Entries have been booked already from Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Washington clubs, although the list will not be closed by Secretary Edge until Wednesday night.

tary Edge until Wednesday night.

The M. G. A. tournaments to follow Atlantic City, as now arranged for the first half of the season, will come in this order: Garden City, May, 10, 11, 12; Garden City, May, 10, 11, 12; Garden City, Interscholastic, May, 17, 18, 19; Montclair, New York "ad" men, May 16; Englewood, Women's M. G. A. open championship, August 2, 10, 11.

Herbert M. Harriman, amateur champion

pionship, August 2, 10, 11.

Herbert M. Harriman, amateur champion of 1898, may be at the tournaments again this season. He spent the winter in southern California and is golfing very well. Frank O. Reinhart, who has been very ill with typhoid this winter, has been golfing at Plainfield, but he will do little tournament play, according to reports. Percy R. Pyne. 2d. another ex-intercollegiste golfer, is attending closely to business and only getting week end opportunities to golf, but his game has never been better. Another personal note is that Davison Lloyd and Paul Waterman are on a golfing trip abroad and will be at Hoylake for the amateur championship.

Only players who have a New Jersey State Golf Association rating, based on club returns to be sent by May 10, may compete in the handicap on June 2 at Morris county, except at scratch. Besides the thirteen clubs that are also M. G. A. members, the New Jersey league also includes Atlantic City, Cance Brook, Arsdale, Elizabeth, Cape May, Forest Hill, Colonia, Erwin Park, Glen Ridge and Ridgewood. Leighton Calkins and C. W. O'Conner are the New Jersey handicappers.

Jahn Harland, for five years at the Brook-lawn Golf Club, Bridgeport, goes this season to the Arsdale Golf Club, East Orange, and Will Turnbull, for three years with the Sadaqueda Golf Club, Utica, has been hired at Brooklawn. Chris Crosby, last year at Aredale, is now at the South Orange Field Club. The latter is a home bred golfer and made a good showing last season at some of the tournaments. Martey O'Leughlin, who played better last year than any of the homebred pros in the M. G. A. remains at the Plainfield Country Club. George Pierson has sixty men working under him at the new nine holes of the Forest Hill Golf Club and the eighteen holes will be ready on Decoration Day.

PLAINFIELD, April 29.—The active golf season was opened yesterday at the Plainfield County Club with play for the golf committee cup, weekly competition, and play for the opening cups, for the best gross and best net scores. The club has made several improvements on the course and about the the clubhouse, and an usually good season is anticipated. In he play for the opening day cups, Edward J. Patterson won the best net score cup with 75, and W. Lester Glenny captured the cup for the best gross score, at 80. The scores:

son, 100, 17-83; W. Lester Glenny, 85, plus 2-87; W. L. C. Glenny, 108, 19-89; H. D. Hibbard, 94, 5-89; Townsend Rushmore, 102, 13-89; A. E. Barclay, 112, 17-98; C. B. Andrews, 112, 16-96; W. F. Merrill, 16, 17-99; M. D. Rae, 110, 10-100; L. R. Hopton, 133, 21-112.

CYCLING BEGINS AT VAILSBURG. Bay View Wheelmen Bun Races Without Police Interference.

Sunday cycle racing was begun at the Vailsburg track in Newark yesterday afternoon and 2,000 persons took chances on a rain storm to witness the events on the quarter mile board oval. A bike cop learned against his machine across the street from the track entrance, but there was no hint of police interference, perhaps because the races were promoted by the Bay View Wheelmen and not by a professional promoter.

In accordance with the rule passed by the board of control at the annual meeting of the National Cycling Association last March "team work" was barred in the professional events for the first time in several years. Associate referees were stationad around the track to watch for violations of this rule, but they had no unfavorable reports to make, offend.

"Herr" Krebs was the first one to strike out for home in the last lap of each of the professional events. In the one mile open he tried to sprint two-thirds of the last quarter mile and was still leading when he entered the homestretch. In the struggle to the tape Fenn and the Bedell brothers passed Krebs and finished abreast, with John Bedell two inches ahead of his brother, who was the same distance ahead of Fenn.

Teddy Billington, runner up for the amateur championship last year and long famous as the "Pride of Vailsburg," made his first appearance as a professional yesterday. He just failed to qualifyin his heat of the open event, after making a hard fifth of a mile sprint. In the two mile handicap he had received the conservative allowance of 110 yards and quickly overhauled Schlee, who had ten yards more start. They worked together so well that the back markers did not each them for a mile. Billington won his first dollar as a racing cyclist by taking the lap prize for leading the sixth time around. He won another honest dollar by being in the van the next time the field completed a circuit of the track.

He won another honest dollar by being in the van the next time the field completed a circuit of the track.

Krebs was seized with one of his sprinting notions at the middle of the backstretch in the last lap. He started from almost the end of the line and had taken the lead when the last turn was reached. Fenn, with the Bedells tagged on, went after Krebs when the latter swept past. Krebs led into the straight, where Fenn drew up to his side. The pair worked hard, but Fenn had about a foot advantage as they crossed the tape. This time Menus Bedell led Brother John over the line by half a length, Schlee defeating Billington for fifth place.

C. A. Sherwood, one of last year's New York Athletic Club team, who is fighting against his transfer to the professional ranks, did not appear at Vallsburg yesterday. He had been told that he might be allowed to race as an amateur yesterday, but evidently did not care to risk being refused.

In the first game yesterday the Unitedleys of Brooklyn suffered defeat at the hands of the players of the Jersey A. C., the latter winning by the close margin of 1 goal to 0. T. Waldron shot the goal for the winners in the second half.

In the second game the Clarendons surprised the talent by taking the crack team of the Robert Burns. Association into camp. It was even a closer contest than the first, although the final score was the same, viz. I goal to 0 against the home eleven. Two halves were completed and still the honors were even, and Referee Caldwell ordered an extra period to determine the issue, either by goals or corners. The Robert Burns team was actually the first to take the lead, being credited with a corner, from which, however, they failed to score. Wilson then beat the home defence for the Clarendons amid great excitement, and this advantage the New Yorkers were unable to offset.

BETTER TEAM HITTING NOW.

LOCAL BASEBALL CLUBS ALL MAKE GAINS.

Devlin, Williams and Lumley Respective Leaders of Their Teams, First Two Batting .867—Champions Better Than Rivais in Stick Work—Fielding Figures.

York Nationals, and Jimmy Williams, second baseman of the New York Americans, lead their teams in batting thus far this season with the same mark. They have been hitting .867, husky going and more characteristic of the first three weeks of a season than the last two months. Harry Lumley, who still is the headmaster of the Brooklyns, has a percentage of .308.

There has been a gain all around by the three local teams, whether they won or lost the majority of the games last week. In team hitting for instance, the world's champions picked up 26 points, making their genera average .252. Their opponents, too, made an advance, and they are credited with .210. The American Leaguers advanced the greatest amount of the three, piling on 43 notches and now having a team batting credit of .250. The figures seem to belie actual activity. for with all that hitting few games were won. Their opponents did not gain a point, still being .253. The Brooklyns advancad 18 points being .253. The Brooklyns advanced 18 points to .202, their rivals falling back 4 points to .234. As matters now stand the champions are the local players who are outhitting the teams they meet.

Devlin is the leader of the champions. He picked up the nice total of 77 points last week to get his .367. Williams, who has been clouting the ball hard since the start, shot up 12 points. Lumley put on five points to be .308.

The averages of the three teams to and including last Saturday's games are as follows:

$5,550 FROM GAME FOR FRISCO. York Americans Defeat Athletics Before Big Sunday Crowd.

A big crowd, which was as decorous as it was big, saw the first Sunday ball game ever played between major league teams on Man-hattan Island at American League Park yesterday afternoon. The receipts from the game were $5,552.25, not including a late donation of $50, the entire amount to go to the San Francisco relief fund. It was intended to have the game figure as a regular championship contest, but the necessary permission from the baseball authorities ould not be had, owing to insufficient time to obtain it, so the contest was an exhibition. The New Yorks won easily. They batted Henley of the Athletics out of the box and by that time had such a big lead that there was little danger of overtaking them. Every man on the New York side made one or more hits. Laports, who was to have played third for the New Yorks, was hit by a batted ball and injured in the preliminary practice. He gave way to Moriarity, who sammed the ball to various distant points.

There was a big response to the opportunity to do something for the needy ones across the continent. Materially and sentimentally the box office showed that the affair was a success. The score:

BROOKLYN PLAYS GREAT BALL. Stricklett Blanks Philadelphias-Lumley's Homer Sole Run.

The Brooklyn team yesterday played by far its most brilliant game of the season, beating the hard hitting, fast fielding Phila-delphias at Washington Park by a score of to 0. It was errorless baseball on both sides and except for a wild pitch by Stricklett the hest game played this season almost anywhere. The Donovans played like world's champions and offset the best efforts of the visitors by displaying form that would win pennants in any league. Both Stricklett and Duggleby pitched well. With Stricklett's team backing him up well it was not so hard for him to win. As on last Sunday, admission to the game was by voluntary contribution. There were more than 10.0% persons on hand and practically every one gave to the collection boxes, although no demands were made. The box offices were open to make change for those needing it, and had printed signs, "Get your change here." The average donation was a quarter, few less and many higher. The crowd was not on its good behavior, however, and gave Conway an awful roasting for calling Lumley and Maloney out on strikes in the third inung and rejoiced when two foul balls caught him in the shoulder and foot.

To all intents and purposes the game might as well have lasted only one inning. In Brooklyn's half of the first bunley, the first batter up, walloped the first ball pitched over the right field fence for a home run. It was his third of the year and the only run scored in the game. Brooklyn got two more men to first in the same inning, one through Batch's double, but good fielding held the scoring just where it was. Casey's triple in the third, with two out, made things look hopeful, but Jordan hit weakly to Duggleby and died at the Brooklyns got men to first, but they were choked at second by the splendid combination work of Dooin and Doolin.

Casey made a wonderful stop of a line smash from Ward in the third and hurled the ball over. In the fifth, with two men on basee and two out, Stricklett fanned Ward and saved his bacon. He pitched a masterly game, giving five hits, spread through as many innings. Lewis fielded superbly and was a factor in the victory. The score:
